We are not just another ordinary company on the market. Our experience is exceptional as we have been working with natural stone for many years. An innovative approach and strong knowledge of the market allowed us to manufacture the right products, thereby making us popular among customers. In 2012 we made an important decision to switch from the path of ordinary manufacturer to a trendsetter in a narrow but very unique field – mosaic tile production. So was born a new brand, Skalini. Years of experience, new technologies and an exceptional designer team altogether allowed us to create a totally new product line. The combination of one brand, two different collections and dozens of ideas resulted in hundreds of types of mosaic tiles. The team of designers in cooperation with a group of engineers created a product that will fill its unique niche in the market.

Natural stone processing traditions have centuries old history in Italy. And as in the old days, Italian artists continue to amaze the world with new discoveries in the art of processing stone surfaces. Metal Stone collection represents the beauty of natural stone that was artistically crafted with the use of modern technologies. Deep metal colors complement the antiquity of natural stone in a very unique way. Therefore this collection is a modern interpretation of classics. Interior design is a creative process that requires an individual approach. Skalini designers made sure that these products will meet all your needs in creating designs in your own unique way. Our collection consists of mosaics in three different sizes and enables the use of any base mosaic tile together with our unique decorative inserts. The collection features seventeen types of decos that will help to reflect your individuality and unique style in designing your interior.
